Castiel:The Story Of An Angel

CASTIEL: THE STORY OF AND ANGEL

Castiel is an angel of the lord. His only fault is that he loves humanity too much, and for that he is condemned to an eternity of sorry and heartbreak. His best friend is a broken young man named Dean Winchester. He loves Dean and his little brother Sam, even though this love has cost him everything. He has died several cruel deaths and every time God brings him back. He has carved an angel banishing sigil into his chest to get rid of angels that were trying to hurt Sam and Dean even though it meant him getting banished too. His father abandoned him, and his family cast him aside. These are but a few trials of the trials of this beautiful angel who loved humanity. He has done all of this for two brothers. Sam and Dean Winchester are his only family now.

Sam and Dean had just found out that Lucifer had escaped from his cage and were sitting in a cheap motel room trying to figure out what to do about it. Dean sat down on the edge of his bed, folded his hands, and closed his eyes and began to pray to Castiel, "Dear Castiel, who art probably causing trouble in Heaven, we are in deep deep shit right now so please get your ass down here. Amen" he opened his eyes and Cas was right beside him. Cas looked down into Deans eyes and he had a worried look in his eyes like he was going to lose his everything... the person he loved the most. "You called?", he said in his deep, sexy angel voice.

"Cas, thank God, we're in big trouble! Lucifer and Michael have escaped from the cage and they are pissed, not only at us but you too! Cas what do we do?" he replied in a strained, worried voice. Dean stood up so that he was face to face with Cas. A single man tear rolled down his left cheek. Without thinking, Cas pulled Dean in close and planted a beautiful angel kiss on his trembling lips, he then embraced him like the world depended on it.
